

Feedback Results
Your CompanyName Here
2025

Sample Employee

Results Generated by HR-Survey

November 2025

Introduction

What you will find in this report

This report contains the results of the 360-degree feedback collected from a combination of yourself, management, and peers. These results are presented in a variety of formats to help you identify your strengths, areas for development, and areas where your ratings may diverge from those of the individuals providing you feedback. Please recognize the time and effort your respondents put into providing you with this feedback, be open to their opinions, and be willing to use their feedback as a starting point for your learning and development.

Goals of the 360 Degree Feedback

1. Increased mindfulness
2. Greater awareness of the leadership and management competencies the company is seeking to develop
3. Greater clarity about strengths to build on and areas to improve
4. Improved goal-setting for personal and professional development
5. More frequent and open communication between yourself and others about what is working well and what needs to be improved
6. Increased comfort with seeking and receiving feedback
7. Increased comfort with giving feedback

Receiving Feedback

Hearing from others how they perceive you is challenging for everyone, especially if their perceptions are different from your own. Remember that their feedback is as much about them as about you. At the same time, others' perceptions of you form the real basis of your relationships. It is a precious gift to learn from others how they perceive you, for with that information you can begin to improve your relationships and teamwork on a truly solid foundation. Give your emotional responses to the feedback time to evolve and settle down, then begin the process of making sure you understand what others are saying.

What is Feedforward and What to Do with Your Feedforward

Feedforward is the reverse exercise of feedback. It's the process of replacing positive or negative feedback with future-oriented solutions. In simple terms, it means focusing on the future instead of the past. During the upcoming Leadership sessions, you will have an extended opportunity to work with your coach to interpret your feedback and to begin to prioritize improvements you want to make.

At the end of the sessions, you will have dedicated time to factor these priorities into other session learnings to set a few focused, high-leverage goals and begin to think about how you will pursue those goals.

After the sessions, you should work with your coach to work on that pursuit.

You are encouraged to communicate further with your respondents, both to clarify the meaning of the feedback they have given you and to solicit their support on your self-development journey. Even when people have not self-identified, you can conduct general conversations in which you share what you've learned and seek their further feedforward.

Summary

The questionnaire items used in this feedback process asked respondents to rate 5 competencies of leadership and management. Summary scores for each item were calculated by averaging the scores of all your respondents to that item. Your scores for the items in each competency are shown in the bar graph below, with the highest-scored competencies at the top. Your competencies that received the lowest scores appear at the bottom of the graph.

Scores by Competency

Adaptability
Management
Company
Accountability
Empowering Others

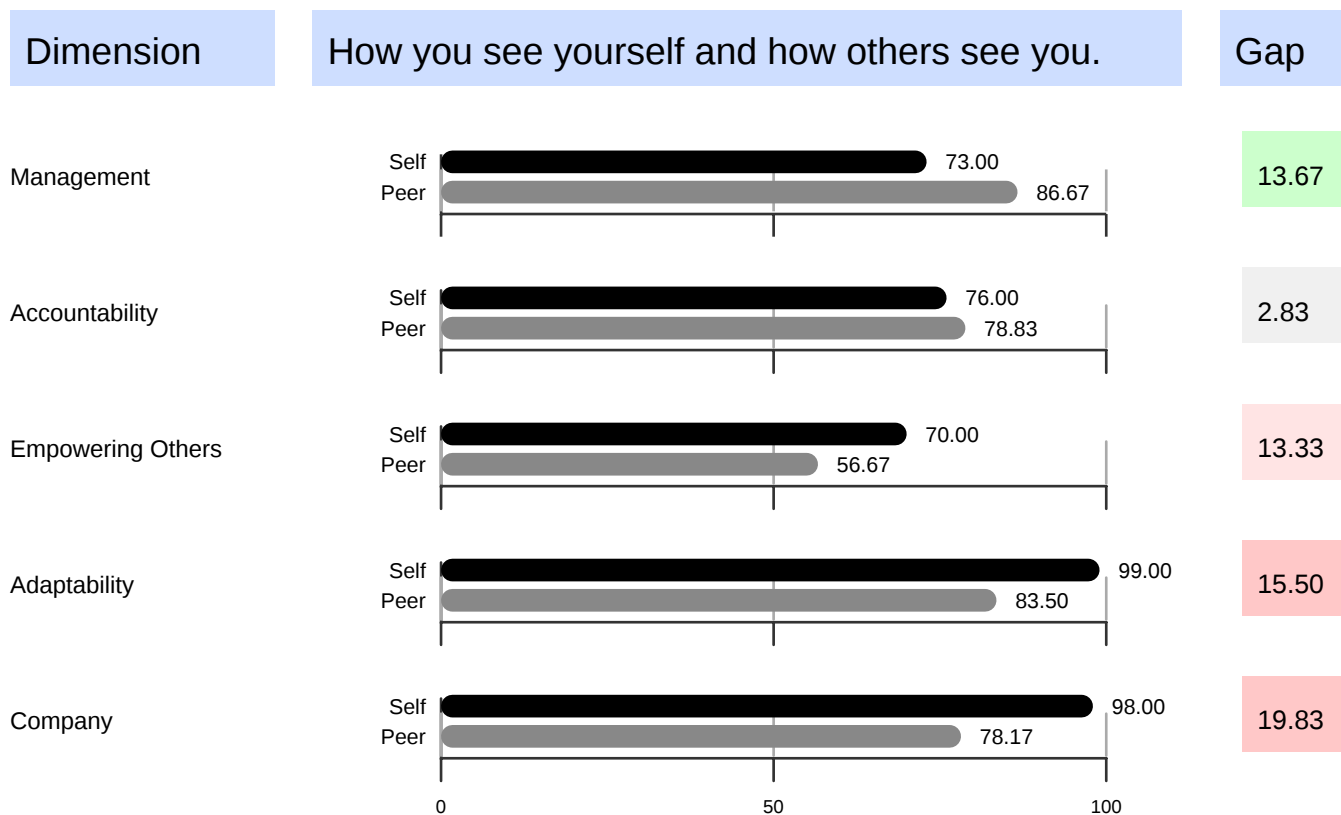

Relationship	Headcount
Self	1
Supervisor	1
Peers	2
Direct Reports	3

The results in this report are based on responses collected from individuals in different roles. This table shows the number of responses from individuals in different roles.

These different roles provide different perspectives on your behaviors, competencies, and attributes. And, of course, the perspectives of individuals in each role may be unique.

Gap Analysis

The following table graphically displays the "Gap," or difference between your average rating on each competency (labeled "Self") and the average score of all other respondents (labeled "Others") who provided you with feedback. This can help you identify blind spots, or areas where you were rated more favorably by other respondents than by yourself. The Gaps for these competencies are colored in shades of green. Conversely, the graph can also help you identify your opportunities for improvement, or areas where you rated yourself higher than others did. The Gaps for these dimensions are colored in shades of red. The darker the shade of green or red, the larger the Gap. Finally, if a dimension's Gap is not shaded with a specific color, it indicates an area of agreement between yourself and others.

Accountability

Defintion:

Accountability means taking responsibility for meeting performance expectations and being answerable for the outcomes. It recognizes that actions have consequences, which reflect our commitment to accountability. When individuals aim for high accountability, their performance improves. Accountability exists in a variety of ways including: performance appraisals/reports, delegation of responsibilities, expectations of results, keeping the supervisor informed, being on time, and treating employees well.

Why it is important:

Accountability is a driving force to achieve performance goals. When people know that their actions are being observed and evaluated, they are more likely to put forth their best effort. Holding employees accountable ensures that their objectives are aligned with the overall business objectives. This is because clear expectations provide a roadmap for success, and the potential consequences serve as a motivator to achieve the set goals.

Statements for Level:

Documents performance goals through an individual development plan.

Consistently follows through on commitments and promises.

Provides clear reasons for underperformance.

Takes charge of addressing and solving problems.

Consistently strives to complete work on time or ahead of schedule.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- Getting people into the right role has been a bit challenging, but there are changes being made to adjust this in one case. There is little shared decision making on any meaningful topics.
- He has put together a fantastic leadership group that keeps the customer experience first and foremost.
- He removes barriers so that we can do our job to the best of our ability.

Management

Defintion:

Management is the disciplined practice of aligning people, resources, and strategy to achieve organizational goals through clear communication, timely feedback, and consistent accountability. It involves leading by example, empowering others to act with confidence, and coordinating team efforts to ensure progress, development, and high performance. Effective managers establish focus and direction, inspire commitment, and recognize contributions while managing time, projects, and strategic priorities with precision. They delegate thoughtfully, supervise with integrity, resolve conflicts constructively, and allocate resources responsively to sustain momentum and drive results.

Why it is important:

Management is essential to organizations because it transforms strategic intent into coordinated action, ensuring that people, resources, and priorities are aligned toward meaningful goals. Through clear communication, consistent accountability, and timely feedback, managers create clarity, foster trust, and drive performance. By leading through example and empowering others, they cultivate a culture of ownership, innovation, and resilience--where individuals feel supported and motivated to contribute their best. Effective management not only delivers results but also builds the conditions for long-term growth, adaptability, and sustained organizational health.

Statements for Level:

Determines the staff needs for the project.

Credits subordinates for good performance.

Applies consistent and impartial criteria when granting high-value recognition.

Reviews outputs to confirm they meet defined quality benchmarks before final delivery.

Empowers employees to structure their work schedule to maximize their productivity.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- This has been a tough year on a number of fronts for me. I think I have helped position the organization with the right strategizes and metrics to drive long-term success.
- He has high expectations of us as staff and of our volunteer team so that we are providing exceptional experiences every time.
- He strives to raise the bar everyday to improve our processes to best serve our customers.
- Definitely goes out of his way to support customers.
- _____ is very customer focused.

Adaptability

Defintion:

Adaptability is the ability to adjust to new responsibilities, changing circumstances, and uncertain environments while maintaining efficiency and effectiveness. It involves embracing shifts in organizational structure, technology, and processes, as well as modifying strategies, perspectives, and priorities to align with evolving business needs. By continuously developing skills, assisting others through transitions, and refining workflows, adaptability fosters resilience, innovation, and long-term success in dynamic environments.

Why it is important:Statements for Level:

Adapts to a wide array of changes within the company, incorporating new ideas and initiatives. Alters priorities and methodologies as necessary to address evolving company needs.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I can continue to be a better role model for my staff and colleagues
- He has established credibility and trust with all the directors and managers.
- Always conducts himself in a professional manner.

Empowering Others

Defintion:

Empowering individuals means granting them the freedom to make decisions and take ownership of their work. Allowing for flexibility in work hours or remote work arrangements empowers employees to manage their time effectively. Empowerment includes providing growth opportunities and encouraging employees to share their ideas, perspectives, and solutions.

Why it is important:

When employees have autonomy, they feel trusted and motivated to contribute their best. Allowing flexibility in work hours or remote work arrangements empowers employees to manage their time effectively. This flexibility acknowledges their personal needs and fosters a healthy work-life balance. Empowerment provides growth opportunities for employees and encourages employees to share their ideas, perspectives, and solutions. This creates an environment where they can learn, develop, and take on new challenges. Empowerment involves tailoring responsibilities to match employees' skill levels, allowing them to excel and grow.

Statements for Level:

Avoids micromanaging their employees.

Demonstrates confidence in the abilities of subordinates.

Enables team members to make their own decisions on the project.

Gives employees the freedom to set their own schedule.

Fosters a sense of ownership and accountability for the process/product.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I need to be a better listener and slow down.
- He understands our job and works with us to improve our productivity while being concerned with our job satisfaction.
- Could improve Communication skill set.
- _____ has many responsibilities and at times needed direction is delayed as he sorts through his priorities. Responses via email can be slow, delaying action on my part while I wait direction.

Company

Defintion:

A Company is a dynamic ecosystem that cultivates trust, pride, and optimism through ethical conduct, transparent communication, and a work environment designed to foster satisfaction, productivity, and camaraderie. It strategically aligns staffing, training, resources, and facilities to support evolving initiatives and objectives, while maintaining competitiveness through innovation, adaptability, and well-crafted policies. Through its image, impact, and teamwork, a Company becomes a place where employees feel empowered to contribute meaningfully and clients are consistently served with distinction.

Why it is important:

This definition of Company is important because it captures the full spectrum of what makes an organization not just functional, but exceptional—balancing operational excellence with human-centered values. By integrating dimensions like ethics, morale, adaptability, and pride alongside strategic elements like staffing, competitiveness, and resource allocation, it creates a blueprint for sustainable success and cultural resilience. Organizations that embody this holistic model are better equipped to attract top talent, foster innovation, and build enduring trust with both employees and external stakeholders.

Statements for Level:

Staffs the department to handle both day-to-day operations and unexpected challenges.

Strengthens company morale by ensuring collaboration/teamwork is both productive and enjoyable.

Is committed to ensuring the company is providing competitive products and services.

Ensures safety and security on the various campuses.

Effectively represents the department in company gatherings.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I would like to learn more about the budgeting process and Core Competency as well as just refreshers with different computer tools to be more proficient with them.