Introduction

What you will find in this report

This report contains the results of the 360-degree feedback collected from a combination of yourself, management, and peers. These results are presented in a variety of formats to help you identify your strengths, areas for development, and areas where your ratings may diverge from those of the individuals providing you feedback. Please recognize the time and effort your respondents put into providing you with this feedback, be open to their opinions, and be willing to use their feedback as a starting point for your learning and development.

Goals of the 360 Degree Feedback

1. Increased mindfulness
2. Greater awareness of the leadership and management competencies the company is seeking to develop
3. Greater clarity about strengths to build on and areas to improve
4. Improved goal-setting for personal and professional development
5. More frequent and open communication between yourself and others about what is working well and what needs to be improved
6. Increased comfort with seeking and receiving feedback
7. Increased comfort with giving feedback

Receiving Feedback

Hearing from others how they perceive you is challenging for everyone, especially if their perceptions are different from your own. Remember that their feedback is as much about them as about you. At the same time, others' perceptions of you form the real basis of your relationships. It is a precious gift to learn from others how they perceive you, for with that information you can begin to improve your relationships and teamwork on a truly solid foundation. Give your emotional responses to the feedback time to evolve and settle down, then begin the process of making sure you understand what others are saying.

What is Feedforward and What to Do with Your Feedforward

Feedforward is the reverse exercise of feedback. It's the process of replacing positive or negative feedback with future-oriented solutions. In simple terms, it means focusing on the future instead of the past. During the upcoming Leadership sessions, you will have an extended opportunity to work with your coach to interpret your feedback and to begin to prioritize improvements you want to make.

At the end of the sessions, you will have dedicated time to factor these priorities into other session learnings to set a few focused, high-leverage goals and begin to think about how you will pursue those goals.

After the sessions, you should work with your coach to work on that pursuit.

You are encouraged to communicate further with your respondents, both to clarify the meaning of the feedback they have given you and to solicit their support on your self-development journey. Even when people have not self-identified, you can conduct general conversations in which you share what you've learned and seek their further feedforward.

Summary

The questionnaire items used in this feedback process asked respondents to rate 5 competencies of leadership and management. Summary scores for each item were calculated by averaging the scores of all your respondents to that item. Your scores for the items in each competency are shown in the bar graph below, with the highest-scored competencies at the top. Your competencies that received the lowest scores appear at the bottom of the graph.

Scores by Competency

Supervisory Skills

Supervisor	1
Peers	5
Direct Reports	6

The results in this report are based on responses collected from individuals in different roles. This table shows the number of responses from individuals in different roles.

These different roles provide different perspectives on your behaviors, competencies, and attributes. And, of course, the perspectives of individuals in each role may be unique.

Gap Analysis

The following table graphically displays the "Gap," or difference between your average rating on each competency (labeled "Self") and the average score of all other respondents (labeled "Others") who provided you with feedback. This can help you identify blind spots, or areas where you were rated more favorably by other respondents than by yourself. The Gaps for these competencies are colored in shades of green. Conversely, the graph can also help you identify your opportunities for improvement, or areas where you rated yourself higher than others did. The Gaps for these dimensions are colored in shades of red. The darker the shade of green or red, the larger the Gap. Finally, if a dimension's Gap is not shaded with a specific color, it indicates an area of agreement between yourself and others.

Achievement

Defintion:

Achievement: a consistent drive to set and attain challenging goals, a strong desire to improve performance, and a commitment to excellence. It involves accomplishing tasks efficiently, responding to setbacks as opportunities for growth, maintaining a strong pace, and demonstrating strategic risk-taking to improve outcomes and the bottom line. Through resource allocation, adherence to best practices, and goal completion, achievement drives success by fostering continuous improvement, optimizing performance, and ensuring impactful contributions to an organization's progress.

Why it is important:

Achievement is essential for organizations and companies because it drives productivity, innovation, and long-term success. By maintaining high standards, adhering to best practices, and strategically aligning individual and team goals with company objectives, employees contribute to consistent performance and measurable results. Organizations that foster a culture of achievement encourage efficiency, resilience in the face of setbacks, and thoughtful risk-taking, all of which lead to improved outcomes and a stronger bottom line.

Statements for Level:

I implement standardized processes and procedures to help others achieve success.; I foster collaboration and accountability, ensuring success is a collective achievement.; You always set high standards for your work and the work of your colleagues.; You demonstrate a well-organized and timely approach to achieve desired results; You navigate uncertainty with confidence.

Goals

Defintion:

Goal setting involves the ability to establish and define aspirational, stretch, and strategic goals. It encompasses prioritizing, optimizing, and aligning these goals to ensure coherence and focus. Additionally, it requires understanding, creating, and utilizing performance metrics to track progress and success. Effective goal setting also includes setting and adhering to timelines while minimizing distractions. It involves coordinating multiple goals simultaneously and providing the necessary support, resources, and feedback to others to help them achieve their objectives.

Why it is important:

The goal setting competency is important in that it establishes focus and direction for a business helping to align the efforts of employees. These goals can motivate and engage employees by giving them a clear purpose and a sense of accomplishment. Goals also provide a framework (or benchmark) for measuring performance. Performance metrics help evaluate the effectiveness of different strategies. Goals also help to determine where resources should be allocated. Goals also establish lines of accountability and responsibility. Goals are also used in strategic planning.

Statements for Level:

You avoid unproductive actions that fail to advance the achievement of the goal.; You focus on actions that actively contribute to achieving the goal.; I consistently stay on course and avoid distractions.; I offer encouragement, remove obstacles, and give feedback to help subordinates succeed.; I establish realistic deadlines for goal completion.

Creativity

Defintion:

Creativity is the ability to generate original, valuable ideas by drawing on reflection, imagination, and continuous learning. It thrives in environments that are supportive, open to diverse perspectives, and structured to stimulate exploration, risk-taking, and thoughtful contemplation. Creative leaders not only develop their own ideas but also cultivate the creative potential of others through collaboration, inspiration, and cross-functional networking. True creativity adds value by producing innovative, unique solutions that are implemented, evaluated, and refined to solve real problems and drive meaningful impact.

Why it is important:

Creativity is essential for organizations because it fuels innovation, adaptability, and long-term relevance in a rapidly changing world. When creativity is cultivated across dimensions—through reflection, imagination, learning, and collaboration--it enables teams to generate original ideas, implement them effectively, and evaluate their impact. Organizations that support creativity not only inspire their workforce but also unlock unique, valuable solutions that solve problems, add strategic value, and differentiate them in the marketplace. By embedding creativity into culture, leadership, and systems, companies position themselves to evolve, thrive, and lead with purpose.

Statements for Level:

You use imagination to create new solutions to problems.; I introduce creative practices that elevate team collaboration and morale.; You allow employees to experiment with procedures/equipment to find creative solutions.; I apply newly acquired knowledge to generate original ideas.; I create space for developing ideas and refining them through iteration.

- I appreciate _____ being open to suggestions, and available when concerns brought to him.

Supervisory Skills

Defintion:

Supervisory skills encompass a broad set of leadership competencies that enable managers to effectively guide and support their teams. These skills involve clear communication, decision-making, and interpersonal abilities to foster collaboration, accountability, and professional growth, while also ensuring structured performance management, disciplinary action, and conflict resolution when necessary. Strong supervisors lead by example, empower employees through delegation, provide constructive feedback, and create a positive, high-performing work environment built on teamwork, recognition, and stability.

Why it is important:

Strong supervisory skills are essential for organizations and companies because they drive productivity, foster employee engagement, and create a structured work environment. Effective supervisors ensure that teams are well-supported through clear communication, accountability, and conflict resolution, allowing employees to perform at their best. By leading by example and maintaining professionalism, supervisors build trust, boost morale, and encourage teamwork, all of which contribute to a positive and efficient workplace culture.

Additionally, supervisory skills play a critical role in employee development and retention. Through coaching, feedback, and recognition, supervisors empower employees to grow, improve their performance, and stay motivated in their roles. A well-trained management team helps maintain a high-performing workforce, reducing turnover and ensuring that employees feel valued and supported. When supervisors provide structure and clarity, employees are more likely to remain committed to company goals and contribute meaningfully to organizational success.

Ultimately, strong supervision directly impacts business outcomes by ensuring that operations run smoothly, decisions are made effectively, and employees remain engaged. Organizations that invest in supervisory skill development benefit from improved efficiency, reduced workplace conflicts, and a culture of accountability and collaboration. As businesses evolve, skilled supervisors help adapt to change, navigate challenges, and create a foundation for sustained growth and innovation.
