

Feedback Results
Your CompanyName Here
2025

Sample Emp

Results Generated by HR-Survey

November 2025

Introduction

What you will find in this report

This report contains the results of the 360-degree feedback collected from a combination of yourself, management, and peers. These results are presented in a variety of formats to help you identify your strengths, areas for development, and areas where your ratings may diverge from those of the individuals providing you feedback. Please recognize the time and effort your respondents put into providing you with this feedback, be open to their opinions, and be willing to use their feedback as a starting point for your learning and development.

Goals of the 360 Degree Feedback

1. Increased mindfulness
2. Greater awareness of the leadership and management competencies the company is seeking to develop
3. Greater clarity about strengths to build on and areas to improve
4. Improved goal-setting for personal and professional development
5. More frequent and open communication between yourself and others about what is working well and what needs to be improved
6. Increased comfort with seeking and receiving feedback
7. Increased comfort with giving feedback

Receiving Feedback

Hearing from others how they perceive you is challenging for everyone, especially if their perceptions are different from your own. Remember that their feedback is as much about them as about you. At the same time, others' perceptions of you form the real basis of your relationships. It is a precious gift to learn from others how they perceive you, for with that information you can begin to improve your relationships and teamwork on a truly solid foundation. Give your emotional responses to the feedback time to evolve and settle down, then begin the process of making sure you understand what others are saying.

What is Feedforward and What to Do with Your Feedforward

Feedforward is the reverse exercise of feedback. It's the process of replacing positive or negative feedback with future-oriented solutions. In simple terms, it means focusing on the future instead of the past. During the upcoming Leadership sessions, you will have an extended opportunity to work with your coach to interpret your feedback and to begin to prioritize improvements you want to make.

At the end of the sessions, you will have dedicated time to factor these priorities into other session learnings to set a few focused, high-leverage goals and begin to think about how you will pursue those goals.

After the sessions, you should work with your coach to work on that pursuit.

You are encouraged to communicate further with your respondents, both to clarify the meaning of the feedback they have given you and to solicit their support on your self-development journey. Even when people have not self-identified, you can conduct general conversations in which you share what you've learned and seek their further feedforward.

Summary

The questionnaire items used in this feedback process asked respondents to rate 5 competencies of leadership and management. Summary scores for each item were calculated by averaging the scores of all your respondents to that item. Your scores for the items in each competency are shown in the bar graph below, with the highest-scored competencies at the top. Your competencies that received the lowest scores appear at the bottom of the graph.

Scores by Competency

Co-worker Development
Analytical
Leadership
Vision
Innovation

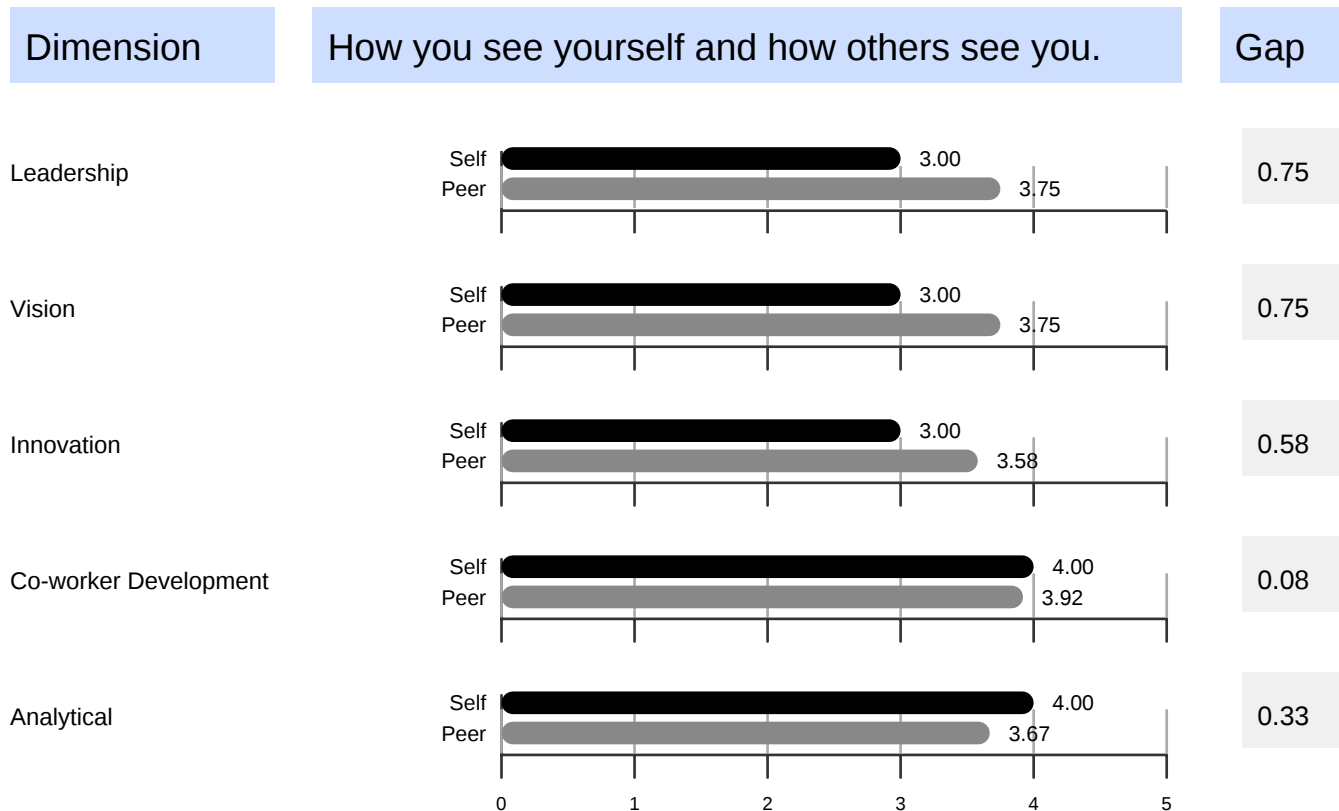

Relationship	Headcount
Self	1
Supervisor	1
Peers	5
Direct Reports	6

The results in this report are based on responses collected from individuals in different roles. This table shows the number of responses from individuals in different roles.

These different roles provide different perspectives on your behaviors, competencies, and attributes. And, of course, the perspectives of individuals in each role may be unique.

Gap Analysis

The following table graphically displays the "Gap," or difference between your average rating on each competency (labeled "Self") and the average score of all other respondents (labeled "Others") who provided you with feedback. This can help you identify blind spots, or areas where you were rated more favorably by other respondents than by yourself. The Gaps for these competencies are colored in shades of green. Conversely, the graph can also help you identify your opportunities for improvement, or areas where you rated yourself higher than others did. The Gaps for these dimensions are colored in shades of red. The darker the shade of green or red, the larger the Gap. Finally, if a dimension's Gap is not shaded with a specific color, it indicates an area of agreement between yourself and others.

Analytical

Defintion:

Analytical skills are the ability to think critically, be open-minded, and reduce complex issues into more manageable parts. The ability to collect, validate, and analyze data is important for making decisions, forecasting, and developing models. Attention to detail and a willingness to work with quantitative data are needed. Having a good understanding of systems, how to present data, and how to conduct research is useful. Analytical skills also require a certain degree of curiosity.

Why it is important:

Analytical skills are crucial in business because they enable professionals to make informed decisions based on data. This not only helps in identifying trends and opportunities but also mitigates risks. With strong analytical skills, businesses can forecast future scenarios, optimize operations, and develop effective strategies. Attention to detail and a good understanding of systems ensure that decisions are precise and well-founded. Curiosity is a driver of continuous improvement and innovation, keeping businesses competitive in a rapidly changing market. Without analytical skills, businesses might rely on intuition rather than evidence, which can lead to costly mistakes and missed opportunities.

Statements for Level:

I meticulously record and maintain logs of observations/measurements.; I use algorithms and quantitative models to determine the costs/benefits of different programs based on mathematical and statistical analysis.; I prove hypotheses and theories using data and experiments.; I make graphs and charts to explain data clearly.; You find trends in data to helped make important decisions.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I do believe that when change is initiated by him that more forethought on the potential consequences could be given. Like any group of people, staff are sensitive to change especially when they perceive the change as being for the sake of change.
- _____ always goes above and beyond in his daily work.
- _____ always put our customers first. This is very appropriate and in line with our mission and executive communications.
- His guidance is outstanding, as his expectations are very high and that allows anyone to grow and learn under his mentoring skills.
- He is very focused on bringing out best in employees and encourages all to get involved with any and all problems to come up with solutions that benefit the team.
- Despite the fact that _____ has experienced very few opportunities that would increase his engagement, he has remained dedicated to [CompanyName] and especially to his staff.

Innovation

Defintion:

Innovation is the process of creating or developing new methods, products, or solutions. It involves seeking and finding creative ways to change and improve to solve problems. It requires a willingness to be flexible and to challenge current processes through a critical analysis. Innovation needs to be supported and promoted since it may be disruptive. It can sometimes help to offer rewards/recognition for innovative ideas. It may be necessary to provide guidance, empower or incentivize employees as well as to coordinate and focus resources, training, and the efforts of cross-functional teams.

Why it is important:

Innovation can help drive business success by enabling the company to maintain competitive advantages to be a market leader. Innovations can help reduce costs through increased efficiency, process improvement, and automation. Innovation can expand markets and production scalability. Innovations may be required to maintain resilience.

Statements for Level:

You implement the creative ideas of employees.; You develop innovative products or services.; I simplify processes and reduce bureaucratic hurdles that might stifle creativity and innovation.; You take risks that often yield reward.; I create a framework to support innovation.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I enjoy working with _____. He is very responsive to questions. He seeks out advice or discussion with me at the appropriate times to make sure his projects are successful.
- _____ always presents himself in the most professional manner.
- He is a great leader.
- Although I have only reported to _____ for a couple of months, the quality of my work life has improved greatly.
- He is well respected by his peers and it is clear to see why.
- I admire _____'s decision making skills when it comes to hiring new employees for our department.

Leadership

Defintion:

Leadership is the ability to guide and influence others through effective communication, inspiration, and decisive action, while upholding integrity and setting clear expectations to achieve organizational goals. A strong leader fosters accountability, empowers their team, and leads by example, creating an environment of trust, development, and collaboration. By demonstrating emotional intelligence, resilience, and transparency, leaders align efforts, recognize achievements, and drive high performance while mentoring and coaching individuals to reach their full potential.

Why it is important:

Effective leadership ensures clear communication, alignment of goals, and empowerment of employees, which enhances productivity and innovation. By demonstrating emotional intelligence, accountability, and resilience, leaders build trust, inspire high performance, and create an adaptable environment that positions organizations to thrive in competitive and ever-changing landscapes.

Statements for Level:

You actively listen to employees as they explain their understanding of problems and situations.; You inspire a shared vision of being the best.; You encourage creativity and expect innovative contributions from everyone.; You influence the decisions made at the Company.; You provide individual coaching for employees as needed.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I feel _____ consistently meets/exceeds in all of the Leadership Effective areas listed above, and I feel he excels in the areas related to encouragement, identifying employees' strengths, and shared decision making.
- _____ clearly communicates expectations and verifies information to ensure shared understanding. A great example was the recent coaching session at our visibility wall. This dialogue was a great opportunity to get some ideas and feedback on processes and metrics that would be meaningful to track in my departments.
- He is a joy to work for.
- As a leader, I can clearly see that _____ is open to growth as he is willing to have difficult conversations with the intent of strengthening the team. I believe the areas that need improvement will develop in time, as he gains leadership experience and mentoring.
- He looks for ways to improve processes, involves his team in the process improvements, and shares with others what his team has accomplished.
- I appreciate _____ being open to suggestions, and available when concerns brought to him.

Co-worker Development

Defintion:

Invests in the professional development of others.

Why it is important:

This is a critical skill set for achieving success in business by allowing you to provide solutions that are tailored to their specific challenges. This proactive approach can lead to increased customer and employee satisfaction and loyalty. This fosters a positive work environment allowing employees to feel more secure and valued in the organization.

Statements for Level:

You adapt coaching and mentoring approach to meet the style or needs of individuals; You set and clearly communicate expectations, performance goals, and measurements to others; You work to identify root causes of performance problems; You provide ongoing feedback to co-workers on your development progress; You take immediate action on poor performance

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I feel he has really engaged with the staff and with the quality work staff performs. He has taken the time to learn more about this department, support, encourage, as well as challenge us to be better.
- _____ conducts himself with a high level of integrity and respects honesty and integrity in the people he works with.
- He is able to see the bigger picture and helps others to look past the present and how we can change the future.
- I am very thankful for all the opportunities he has provided me and I have grown in my development under his guidance. A real asset to the organization.
- He often becomes overly involved with projects and tries to change things when the projects and groups are running smoothly.
- I do see _____ improving in the following areas: following through on process improvement projects and embracing them instead of becoming defensive, open to coaching and mentorship, serving as a role model for techincal staff, collaborating more within the entire RO team and regularly attending required meetings and following through on his assignments.

Vision

Defintion:

Vision is the ability to craft and communicate a compelling, aspirational direction that aligns people, strategy, and culture toward a shared future. It integrates foresight and problem identification to anticipate challenges, while translating long-term goals into actionable plans through both personal execution and team empowerment. Visionary leaders inspire and influence others by modeling consistency, celebrating progress, and fostering a growth-oriented environment that reflects organizational values. Through strategic clarity and motivational leadership, vision becomes a unifying force that drives innovation, alignment, and sustained performance.

Why it is important:

Vision, as defined through its multifaceted dimensions, is essential because it provides organizations with a coherent and compelling sense of direction that integrates strategy, culture, and execution. It aligns individuals and teams around shared long-term goals, enabling consistent decision-making even amid complexity or change. By inspiring commitment, fostering growth, and translating ambition into actionable plans, vision becomes the engine that drives innovation, resilience, and sustained performance. Without it, organizations risk fragmentation, short-termism, and a loss of purpose--making vision not just a leadership trait, but a strategic necessity.

Statements for Level:

I support a strong employee culture to ensure alignment with the company's vision.; You assign the responsibility of implementing the vision to the team, ensuring they have clear guidance, adequate resources, and the necessary authority.; I shape the department's vision into actionable goals.; You clearly articulate a vision for your work and inspires others to support it; You express the Company vision in a way that is easily understood and adopted by employees.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I find him to be a stellar asset to our team at [CompanyName].
- _____ could improve his communication style. He often does not clearly communicate his goals of a conversation or meeting and therefore doesn't always impart a clear vision for an particular outcome. Often after a meeting or conversation one can be left wondering what is the expectation of work to be completed.
- He is always looking to and listening to the staff for their and needs.
- I appreciate his openness and availability to all the staff.
- He routinely demonstrates professionalism and his priority for service which is a model example for others.
- I have been in the work force for over 30 years and had outstanding directors and leaders, however _____ surpasses anyone I met before.