Introduction

What you will find in this report

This report contains the results of the 360-degree feedback collected from a combination of yourself, management, and peers. These results are presented in a variety of formats to help you identify your strengths, areas for development, and areas where your ratings may diverge from those of the individuals providing you feedback. Please recognize the time and effort your respondents put into providing you with this feedback, be open to their opinions, and be willing to use their feedback as a starting point for your learning and development.

Goals of the 360 Degree Feedback

1. Increased mindfulness
2. Greater awareness of the leadership and management competencies the company is seeking to develop
3. Greater clarity about strengths to build on and areas to improve
4. Improved goal-setting for personal and professional development
5. More frequent and open communication between yourself and others about what is working well and what needs to be improved
6. Increased comfort with seeking and receiving feedback
7. Increased comfort with giving feedback

Receiving Feedback

Hearing from others how they perceive you is challenging for everyone, especially if their perceptions are different from your own. Remember that their feedback is as much about them as about you. At the same time, others' perceptions of you form the real basis of your relationships. It is a precious gift to learn from others how they perceive you, for with that information you can begin to improve your relationships and teamwork on a truly solid foundation. Give your emotional responses to the feedback time to evolve and settle down, then begin the process of making sure you understand what others are saying.

What is Feedforward and What to Do with Your Feedforward

Feedforward is the reverse exercise of feedback. It's the process of replacing positive or negative feedback with future-oriented solutions. In simple terms, it means focusing on the future instead of the past. During the upcoming Leadership sessions, you will have an extended opportunity to work with your coach to interpret your feedback and to begin to prioritize improvements you want to make.

At the end of the sessions, you will have dedicated time to factor these priorities into other session learnings to set a few focused, high-leverage goals and begin to think about how you will pursue those goals.

After the sessions, you should work with your coach to work on that pursuit.

You are encouraged to communicate further with your respondents, both to clarify the meaning of the feedback they have given you and to solicit their support on your self-development journey. Even when people have not self-identified, you can conduct general conversations in which you share what you've learned and seek their further feedforward.

Summary

The questionnaire items used in this feedback process asked respondents to rate 5 competencies of leadership and management. Summary scores for each item were calculated by averaging the scores of all your respondents to that item. Your scores for the items in each competency are shown in the bar graph below, with the highest-scored competencies at the top. Your competencies that received the lowest scores appear at the bottom of the graph.

Scores by Competency

Regulatory/Compliance
Cultural Awareness
Developing Others
Problem Solving
Coaching

Relationship	Headcount
Self	1
Supervisor	1
Peers	5
Direct Reports	6

The results in this report are based on responses collected from individuals in different roles. This table shows the number of responses from individuals in different roles.

These different roles provide different perspectives on your behaviors, competencies, and attributes. And, of course, the perspectives of individuals in each role may be unique.

Gap Analysis

The following table graphically displays the "Gap," or difference between your average rating on each competency (labeled "Self") and the average score of all other respondents (labeled "Others") who provided you with feedback. This can help you identify blind spots, or areas where you were rated more favorably by other respondents than by yourself. The Gaps for these competencies are colored in shades of green. Conversely, the graph can also help you identify your opportunities for improvement, or areas where you rated yourself higher than others did. The Gaps for these dimensions are colored in shades of red. The darker the shade of green or red, the larger the Gap. Finally, if a dimension's Gap is not shaded with a specific color, it indicates an area of agreement between yourself and others.

Coaching

Defintion:

Coaching is an essential leadership skill that enhances performance by fostering dialogue and active listening, asking open-ended questions, challenging assumptions, and tailoring approaches to individual needs. It involves reframing challenges as opportunities, broadening perspectives, providing constructive feedback, empowering employees, and emphasizing future potential. Effective coaching supports growth and development by creating a receptive environment, encouraging introspection and self-reflection, demonstrating empathy, investing time, and driving meaningful impact.

Why it is important:

Coaching is essential for businesses because it enhances employee performance, fosters innovation, and strengthens engagement by encouraging dialogue, introspection, and tailored guidance. It empowers employees to solve challenges, embrace growth, and align personal goals with organizational objectives, creating a culture of trust and development. By focusing on long-term potential and adaptability, coaching equips businesses to thrive in an evolving landscape while cultivating a motivated and capable workforce.

Problem Solving

Defintion:

Problem solving involves identifying an issue and conducting a root cause analysis. This includes examining all contributing factors and collecting relevant information while considering the perspectives of others. Multiple solutions are developed through brainstorming, and these solutions are then evaluated for practicality, efficiency, and feasibility. Additionally, the needs and constraints imposed by the organization are balanced. The information gathered is analyzed to determine the best strategy for addressing the problem, which is then effectively implemented.

Why it is important:

Effective problem-solving is crucial for businesses as it helps to identify and address issues before they escalate, ensuring smooth operations and minimizing disruptions. It fosters innovation by encouraging creative solutions and continuous improvement. Additionally, it enhances decision-making, leading to more efficient use of resources and better outcomes. Overall, strong problem-solving skills contribute to the long-term success and competitiveness of a business.

Regulatory/Compliance

Defintion:

Regulatory and Compliance are the actions taken by organizations to ensure they adhere to laws, regulations, and standards relevant to their industry, thereby mitigating risks, maintaining ethical standards, and protecting the interests of stakeholders. Individuals performing this work must be proactive and responsive. It is crucial to establish robust frameworks and reporting systems to ensure compliance, alongside continuous training and education for employees.

Why it is important:

Compliance helps identify and mitigate potential legal and financial risks. Maintaining high compliance standards enhances a company's reputation. Establishing clear compliance frameworks and reporting systems streamlines operations ensuring that all employees are aware of their responsibilities and reduces the likelihood of errors or misconduct. A strong compliance culture fosters a positive work environment allowing employees to feel more secure and valued in the organization. By prioritizing regulatory and compliance efforts, businesses can safeguard their operations, enhance their reputation, and ensure sustainable growth.
