Feedback Results
Your CompanyName Here
2025

Sample Employee

Results Generated by HR-Survey

November 2025

Introduction

What you will find in this report

This report contains the results of the 360-degree feedback collected from a combination of yourself, management, and peers. These results are presented in a variety of formats to help you identify your strengths, areas for development, and areas where your ratings may diverge from those of the individuals providing you feedback. Please recognize the time and effort your respondents put into providing you with this feedback, be open to their opinions, and be willing to use their feedback as a starting point for your learning and development.

Goals of the 360 Degree Feedback

1. Increased mindfulness
2. Greater awareness of the leadership and management competencies the company is seeking to develop
3. Greater clarity about strengths to build on and areas to improve
4. Improved goal-setting for personal and professional development
5. More frequent and open communication between yourself and others about what is working well and what needs to be improved
6. Increased comfort with seeking and receiving feedback
7. Increased comfort with giving feedback

Receiving Feedback

Hearing from others how they perceive you is challenging for everyone, especially if their perceptions are different from your own. Remember that their feedback is as much about them as about you. At the same time, others' perceptions of you form the real basis of your relationships. It is a precious gift to learn from others how they perceive you, for with that information you can begin to improve your relationships and teamwork on a truly solid foundation. Give your emotional responses to the feedback time to evolve and settle down, then begin the process of making sure you understand what others are saying.

What is Feedforward and What to Do with Your Feedforward

Feedforward is the reverse exercise of feedback. It's the process of replacing positive or negative feedback with future-oriented solutions. In simple terms, it means focusing on the future instead of the past.
During the upcoming Leadership sessions, you will have an extended opportunity to work with your coach to interpret your feedback and to begin to prioritize improvements you want to make.

At the end of the sessions, you will have dedicated time to factor these priorities into other session learnings to set a few focused, high-leverage goals and begin to think about how you will pursue those goals.

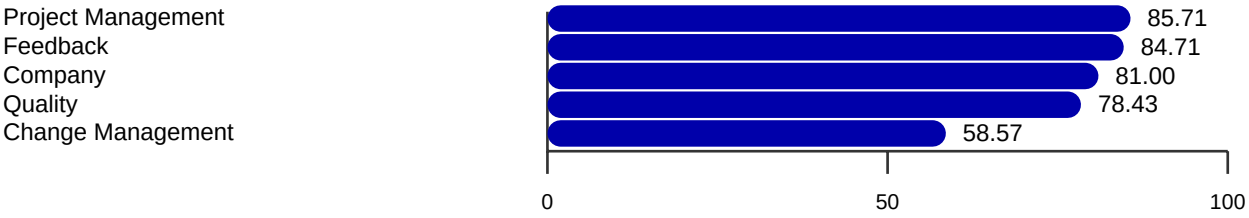

After the sessions, you should work with your coach to work on that pursuit.

You are encouraged to communicate further with your respondents, both to clarify the meaning of the feedback they have given you and to solicit their support on your self-development journey. Even when people have not self-identified, you can conduct general conversations in which you share what you've learned and seek their further feedforward.

Summary

The questionnaire items used in this feedback process asked respondents to rate 5 competencies of leadership and management. Summary scores for each item were calculated by averaging the scores of all your respondents to that item. Your scores for the items in each competency are shown in the bar graph below, with the highest-scored competencies at the top. Your competencies that received the lowest scores appear at the bottom of the graph.

Scores by Competency

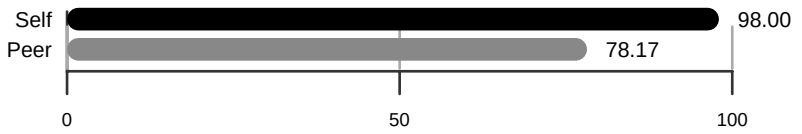

Relationship	Headcount
Self	1
Supvervisor	1
Peers	2
Direct Reports	3

The results in this report are based on responses collected from individuals in different roles. This table shows the number of responses from individuals in different roles.

These different roles provide different perspectives on your behaviors, competencies, and attributes. And, of course, the perspectives of individuals in each role may be unique.

Gap Analysis

The following table graphically displays the "Gap," or difference between your average rating on each competency (labeled "Self") and the average score of all other respondents (labeled "Others") who provided you with feedback. This can help you identify blind spots, or areas where you were rated more favorably by other respondents than by yourself. The Gaps for these competencies are colored in shades of green. Conversely, the graph can also help you identify your opportunities for improvement, or areas where you rated yourself higher than others did. The Gaps for these dimensions are colored in shades of red. The darker the shade of green or red, the larger the Gap. Finally, if a dimension's Gap is not shaded with a specific color, it indicates an area of agreement between yourself and others.

Dimension	How you see yourself and how others see you.	Gap
Feedback		13.67
Quality		2.83
Change Management		13.33
Project Management		15.50
Company		19.83

Quality

Defintion:

Quality is a fundamental aspect of businesses providing services or making products. It is achieved through employees' dedication to high standards, guided by exemplary leaders. It stems from creative initiatives and meticulous implementation of procedures and protocols. Prompt issue resolution is crucial to maintaining quality.

Why it is important:

Quality is important for business in that high-quality products and services meet or exceed customer expectations, leading to satisfaction and repeat customers. Consistently delivering quality helps build a strong reputation which attracts new customers. Investing in quality up-front can reduce costs in the long run. Producing products or services that meet industry standards or regulations requires and emphasis on quality.

Statements for Level:

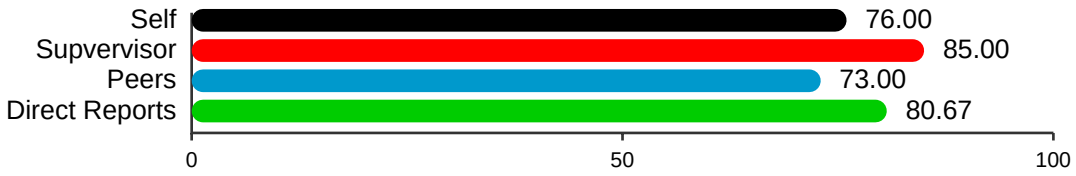

Responds to issues immediately.

Promotes an environment that fosters quality and safety.

Maintains detailed instructions to ensure consistency and quality in the production line.

Understands and uses established quality procedures/controls.

Identifies strategies and their associated risks to improve quality.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- Getting people into the right role has been a bit challenging, but there are changes being made to adjust this in one case. There is little shared decision making on any meaningful topics.
- She has put together a fantastic leadership group that keeps the customer experience first and foremost.
- She removes barriers so that we can do our job to the best of our ability.

Feedback

Defintion:

Feedback is a purposeful and respectful exchange that is specific, constructive, and focused on improving performance through clear expectations, observable behaviors, and actionable guidance. It is delivered in a timely, balanced, and fair manner--acknowledging both strengths and areas for growth while aligning with the recipient's role and goals. A strong feedback culture encourages individuals to actively seek, welcome, and clarify input from diverse and trusted sources, fostering openness, self-awareness, and continuous learning. Effective feedback is supported by coaching, training, and a conducive environment, and is managed with integrity to ensure it leads to reflection, accountability, and meaningful progress.

Why it is important:

Feedback, as defined through its many dimensions (specific, constructive, timely, balanced, and performance-focused) is essential for organizations because it drives continuous improvement at every level. When feedback is delivered with fairness, clarity, and respect, it fosters accountability, strengthens relationships, and aligns individual efforts with organizational goals. Cultivating a culture where feedback is actively sought, openly received, and acted upon (supported by coaching, training, and diverse perspectives) creates an environment of trust, learning, and adaptability. In today's fast-paced and complex business landscape, organizations that manage feedback well are better equipped to evolve, retain talent, and achieve sustained excellence.

Statements for Level:

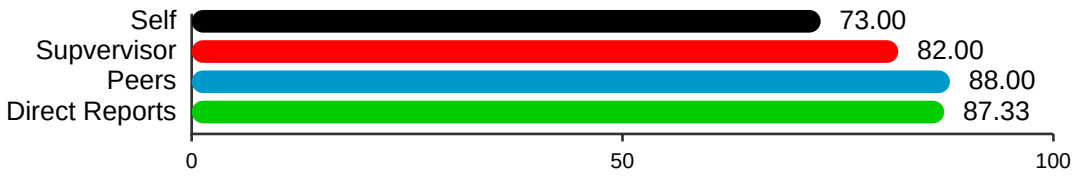

Considers other's opinions and suggestions.

Views feedback as a way to identify areas for improvement, set meaningful goals, and continuously strive for excellence.

Actively listens and considers input from others, regardless of whether the feedback is positive, negative or constructive.

Conducts effective performance feedback conversations by focusing on helping the employee's career development.

Frequently measures performance against predefined goals and standards, detecting opportunities for growth.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- This has been a tough year on a number of fronts for me. I think I have helped position the organization with the right strategizes and metrics to drive long-term success.
- She has high expectations of us as staff and of our volunteer team so that we are providing exceptional experiences every time.
-

She strives to raise the bar everyday to improve our processes to best serve our customers.

- Definitely goes out of her way to support customers.
- _____ is very customer focused.

Project Management

Defintion:

Project Management (PM) is a complex set of activities including defining the scope, planning the implementation, creating a timeline, allocating resources, managing risk, execution/implementation, coordinating different teams/individuals, and monitoring progress. Several important skills are required including: communication, teamwork, leadership, interpersonal and technical.

Why it is important:

Project Management (PM) is crucial for businesses because it provides a structured framework that helps ensure projects are completed on time, within budget, and to the desired quality standards. PM is the backbone of successful project execution, enabling businesses to navigate complex tasks and achieve their goals effectively. It's not just about keeping projects on track; it's about making the most effective use of available resources to maximize outcomes.

Statements for Level:

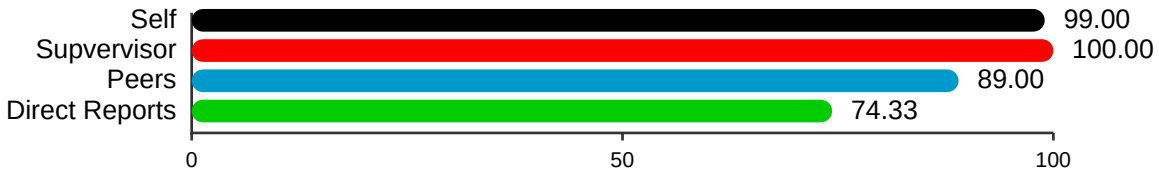

Prepares contingency plans to avoid supply chain disruptions.

Motivates the team to meet project deadlines and performance measures.

Establishes communication protocols for messaging team members and stakeholders.

Works with customers and clients to assess their needs and define project parameters.

Ensures resources are utilized at the appropriate levels for each phase of the project.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I can continue to be a better role model for my staff and colleagues
- She has established credibility and trust with all the directors and managers.
- Always conducts herself in a professional manner.

Change Management

Defintion:

Change management is the structured approach to transitioning individuals, teams, and organizations from current practices to new processes by creating awareness, communicating vision, and establishing clear goals for change. It requires proactive planning, stakeholder involvement, coalition-building, and incentivizing adoption while addressing resistance and fostering agility in evolving environments. Through monitoring, adapting strategies, and providing support and training, effective change management ensures seamless implementation, long-term success, and sustained organizational growth.

Why it is important:

Statements for Level:

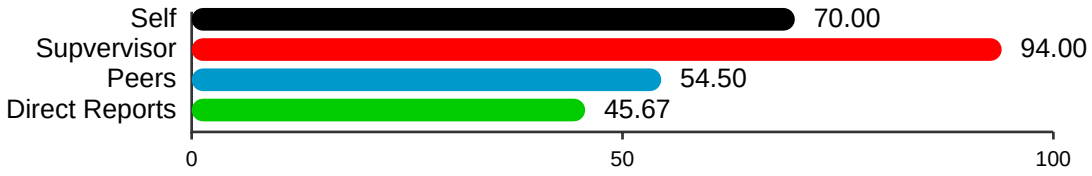

Initiates actions that bring attention to the urgent issues requiring change.

Encourages a sense of urgency by sharing negative or bad news with the employees.

Develops plans for following through on the changes.

Encourages staff to adapt to the new methods and procedures.

Sets goals for what changes are required.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I need to be a better listener and slow down.
- She understands our job and works with us to improve our productivity while being concerned with our job satisfaction.
- Could improve Communication skill set.
- _____ has many responsibilities and at times needed direction is delayed as she sorts through her priorities. Responses via email can be slow, delaying action on my part while I wait direction.

Company

Defintion:

A Company is a dynamic ecosystem that cultivates trust, pride, and optimism through ethical conduct, transparent communication, and a work environment designed to foster satisfaction, productivity, and camaraderie. It strategically aligns staffing, training, resources, and facilities to support evolving initiatives and objectives, while maintaining competitiveness through innovation, adaptability, and well-crafted policies. Through its image, impact, and teamwork, a Company becomes a place where employees feel empowered to contribute meaningfully and clients are consistently served with distinction.

Why it is important:

This definition of Company is important because it captures the full spectrum of what makes an organization not just functional, but exceptional—balancing operational excellence with human-centered values. By integrating dimensions like ethics, morale, adaptability, and pride alongside strategic elements like staffing, competitiveness, and resource allocation, it creates a blueprint for sustainable success and cultural resilience. Organizations that embody this holistic model are better equipped to attract top talent, foster innovation, and build enduring trust with both employees and external stakeholders.

Statements for Level:

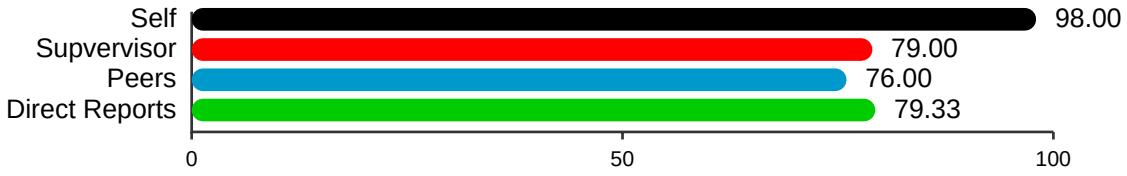

Promotes a speak-up culture where ethical concerns are welcomed and addressed constructively.

Invests in talent to stay ahead of demand.

Provides opportunities for skill development and career advancement within the company.

Strives to maintain the company's edge by delivering high-quality, market-relevant offerings

Is proud to represent a company that others look up to.

Provide any comments to help explain your answers.

- I would like to learn more about the budgeting process and Core Competency as well as just refreshers with different computer tools to be more proficient with them.